Vowels vs. Consonants

Understanding the difference between vowels and consonants is vital for phonics, reading, and spelling.

Type	Letters	Why they are unique
Vowels	A, E, I, O, U	They are produced with an open vocal tract without any friction. Every English word must contain at least one vowel sound!
Consonants	B, C, D, F, G, H, J, K, L, M, N, P, Q, R, S, T, V, W, X, Y, Z	They involve restricting the breath using your tongue, teeth, or lips to create distinct, focused sounds.

When to Use Capital Letters (Uppercase Rules)

Capital letters are not just for style; they follow grammatical rules. Always use an uppercase letter for:

- Beginning of a Sentence: The first word of any new sentence (e.g., The sun is warm).
- Names of People & Places: Proper nouns (e.g., Alex lives in London).
- Days and Months: Calendar specific titles (e.g., Monday, January).
- The Pronoun "I": Whenever writing about yourself (e.g., Yesterday I went running).
